Theme

We thought this year's theme, Archways, would be especially fitting because of our school's outstanding architecture.

Archways open into the future. Through them we pass to new, fresh opportunities, leaving behind us memories of past experiences. We all are going forward into bigger and still better things. Each of us has a definite and meaningful contribution to make to the future. Our high school years symbolize an archway between our student years and our adult years when we will be the leaders of tomorrow.

But let's enjoy a moment now to travel back under an archway of memories to review some of the things that have happened this past great year. Remember the fun of the basketball, football, and baseball games? Dreamy Pow Wow, the suspense of the elections, the books on the bull rings? Remember the stomp, surfing movie, and the open houses? Remember the rallies, reunions, assemblies, the Red and White Game, the plays, and those fabulous dances?

Here's your 1962 annual. We hope you like it, and that it can be your archway to memories of a wonderful year. And for the seniors, may it provide fond and lasting memories of their last year at F.U.H.S.

Dedicated to Our Town.....

Fullerton

We, the students, want to take this opportunity to thank the city that has made so many worthwhile activities available to us--Fullerton.

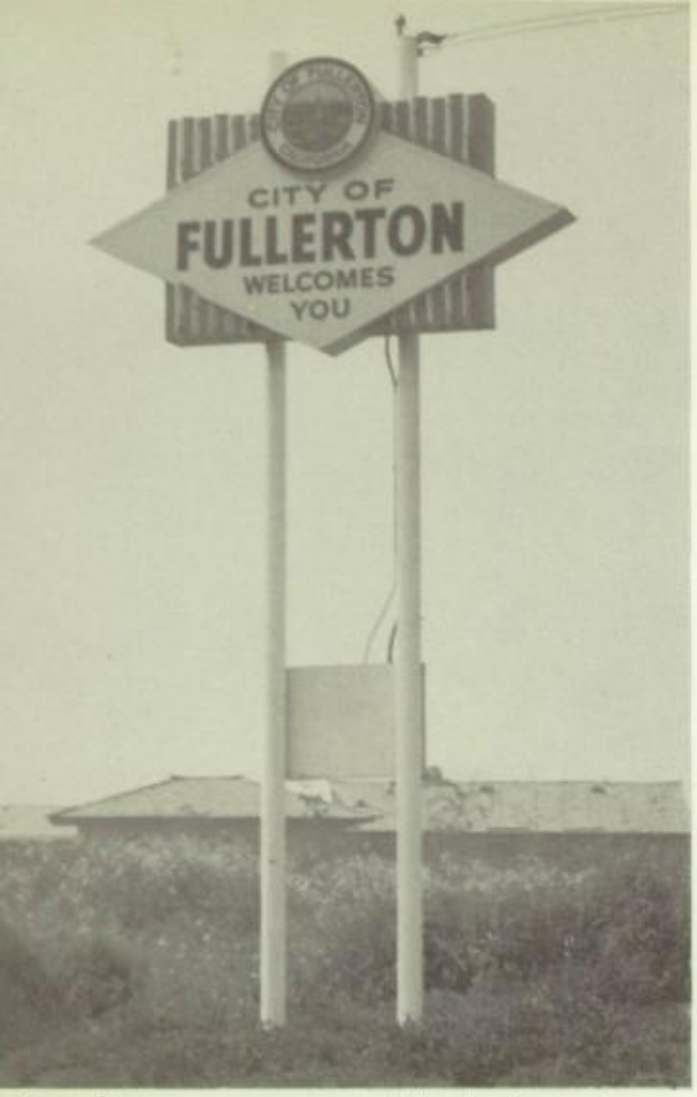
The change which has taken place in Fullerton during the past fifty years has been astounding. Fullerton's population has increased many times in the past half century. Since World War II alone, huge expansion of businesses, factories, and homes would be quite incredible to early Fullerton pioneers if they could see our city as it is today. Commerce has moved from downtown areas outward to several shopping centers throughout the city. Following California building trends, Fullerton has expanded not vertically, but horizontally.

Our local government has done a tremendous job of making Fullerton a fine place in which to live. The recreational program, providing summer camps, parks, and sports activities, has been especially outstanding. The town has also met its objective as Center of Everything Worthwhile with an excellent school system, fire department, and police force. For this we gratefully dedicate the 1962 annual to our town, Fullerton.

"The town has also met its objective as Center of Everything Worthwhile with an excellent. . .police force."

Upon entering Fullerton, the tourist is welcomed the arch that spans Harbor Boulevard.

Beautiful parks overlooking the city give a breathtakin splendor.



Out-of-towners are greeted both day and night by the lamp of welcome that is situated on Harbor Boulevard, one of Fullerton's main thoroughfares.

Looking east along Commonwealth Avenue one sees one of the main arteries of our downtown commerce area.

Expanding with the rest of the city is Fullerton Union High School which is seen in one of its developing stages.

ADMINISTRATION

"An Arch never sleeps."

The Doors Are Open

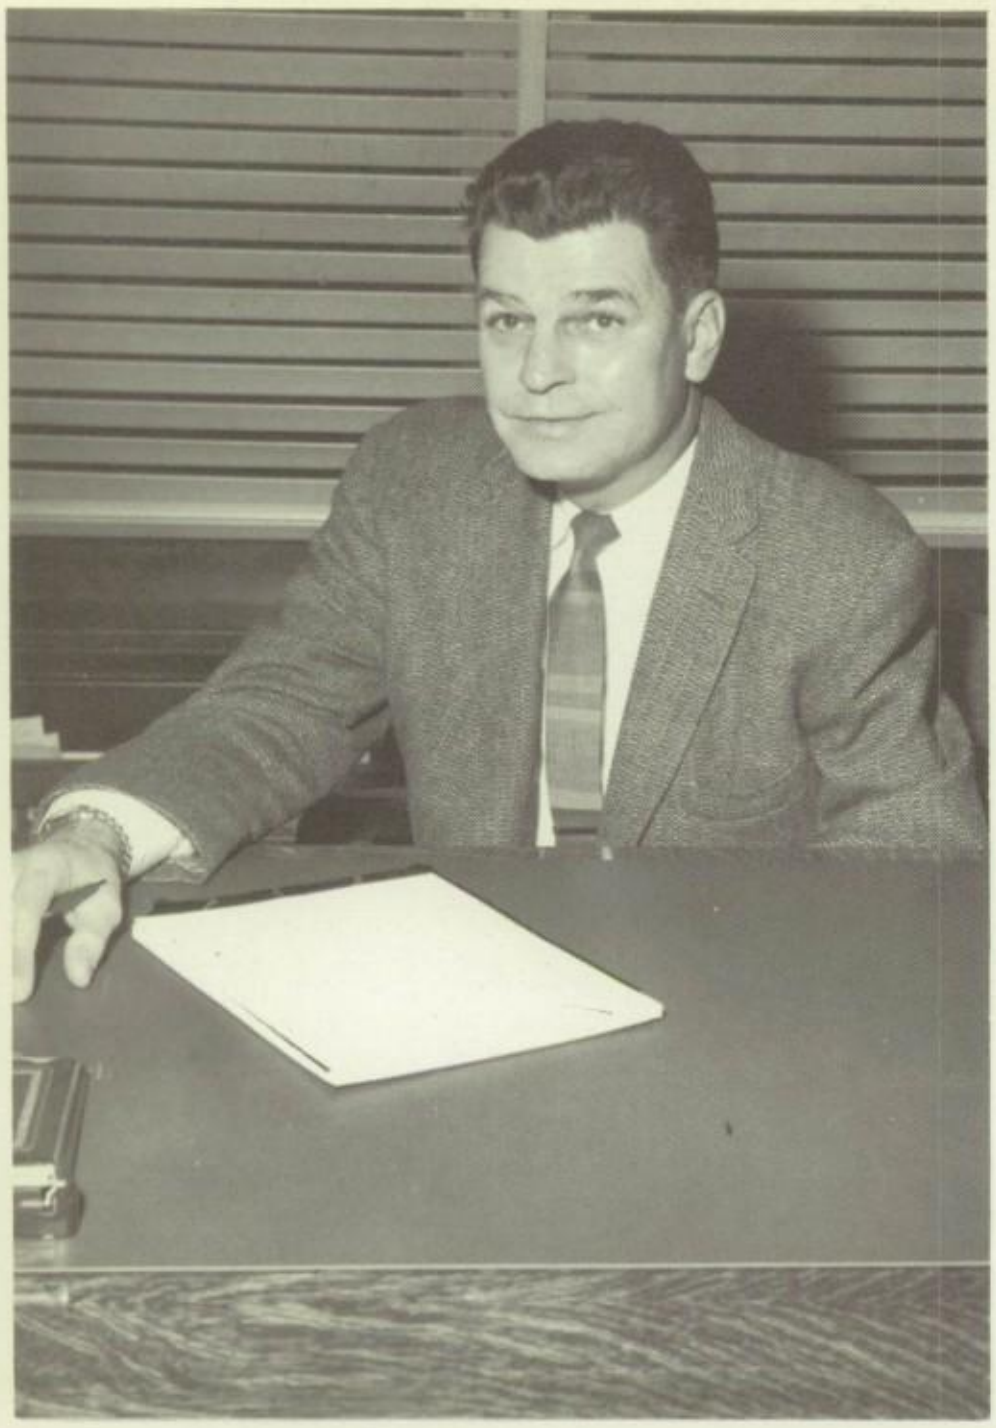
Through these portals have passed thousands of students; many to continue their education in institutions of higher learning, others to take their places in some other walk of life.

Education, for many, provides the key to many doors leading to the opportunity for success, fame, and fortune. There are those who have passed through the portals of F.U.H.S. who have reached the pinnacle in sports, entertainment, business, industry, and politics.

The opportunities are ever present if you establish your goal and possess the desire, ambition, and determination to open the many doors to ultimate success which are available to you.

Here are the keys. My very best wishes go with you.

Donald C. Brueckhaus



Dean of Students

How fitting that the theme for this edition of our yearbook is "Archways." Perhaps the most inspiring feature of our campus is its many graceful arches--arches designed to support great weight, arches to serve as doors, arches to frame many beautiful and challenging views, arches to provide fond and lasting memories of FUHS.

How very much we are reminded that Life, too, has many archways--archways leading in all directions and to a vast variety of goals. It is our choice of archways that determines the direction our lives will take. Let us, then, be sure that our archways lead to a job well done, to health and happiness, to beauty, to respect for our fellow man and, lastly, to proud and loving memories of the years that are ours.

Dean of Instruction

Engineers tell us the voussoirs forming an archway support the building wall, resulting in the strongest, and safest place in the structure. In addition to their architectural functions, arches are things of beauty whether they are pointed in the Gothic style as so often seen in churches or round as in our own school arcades.

Henry Adams, the historian, observed, "All experience is an arch, to build upon." Our experiences at school and at home give us the opportunity to construct the type of arch--and building--we want.

Coordinators Contribute

Mr. Louis Armijo, our student activities coordinator, had many responsibilities this year. One of his important jobs was that of assisting Mr. Sam Callicott, who serves our entire district in the attendance department. Also, Mr. Armijo planned and directed our activities, such as football, basketball and track. Aside from this, he was at all athletic events an hour and a half before starting time. We wish to thank Mr. Armijo for his hard work and student interest.

MR. LOUIS ARMIJO
Student Activities Coordinator

Mr. Arthur Lynn, as Dean of Guidance Service, has been very busy this year. He has been in charge of the testing programs, student counseling, college admission information, and health service. All work involving IBM records and reports, student work permits, and school research activities were also his responsibilities. As you can see, Mr. Callicott, Mr. Armijo, and Mr. Lynn all have been real assets to our staff.

Counselors Guide and Plan

Our staff of counselors has done a tremendous job this year. Not only has each counselor helped us with classroom problems, but also with many personal problems as well. In spite of the large size of our school, they have found time to take special interest in each of us. They have also aided us in meeting educational and vocational needs. We each appreciate the outstanding service and interest they have given to us.

Leading our footsteps this year was the faculty who ushered us through another great year here at F.U.H.S. We have much admiration for our loyal teachers who have strived constantly throughout this year to prepare us for the great tasks that will be facing us in the future.

And then there was the day when . . .

. . .Bob Neely drank a malt through a sixteen foot glass straw. Bob exerted a pressure of eight pounds on the rising liquid which reached his mouth three minutes after he began. Dr. Roger Slocum, who sponsored this performance, paid Bob and his assistant, Sharlotte Silva, one dollar each. The feat came about when Dr. Slocum's class was studying air pressure. A question arose concerning the air pressure exerted by the muscles between the ribs. Dr. Slocum was so interested to find out if a person could raise a liquid to the second story of the science building, that he offered a dollar to any one who could succeed.

History, so some think, is very dull. Well, then you've never been in Mr. Strange's class. Here history turns into a picnic in which dates are recalled by mathematical tricks, dull lectures become fascinating experiences, and double-whammies liven everything up. In this picture, we see Mr. Strange salaaming his albino ravine named Quoth, asking him for good luck on his students' tests.

The English Department worked very hard this year to inform us of the new uses of English and help us to review the old. English is said to be one of the hardest languages to learn for it has so many exceptions to the rules, and there is no set standard for verbs. We must practice writing sentences, composing paragraphs, and studying verbs. The English Department works hard to select books for us to read in class. These teachers must be complimented for the fine job they do in helping us find meaning in what we read and in what we write.
Here Mr. Oseid seems to be rooting his class on while they concentrate on an exam.

Mr. Ray Winter, our electronics teacher, discusses the operation of a Five Tube Superheterodyne Receiver with (left to right) Kent Myers, Brian Milner, Paul Drexler, Rick Redesco, Ronald Sekkel, Carter Stack, and Tony Anderson. The receiver theory constitutes an important part of the electronics course.

Miss Cresto's Spanish II class examines a few of the many records dealing with music and language instruction that are used in the teaching of Spanish. In this class, as in other language classes taught in our high school, students learn to appreciate the culture of the people whose language they are studying. Those shown in this picture are Bill McDonald, Launa Jeffrey, Cheryl Crispino, and Judy McMichael.

The fields of electronics, space exploration, and engineering are opening wide opportunities to all of us. It is important now, more than ever before, that we consider mathematics as a career. Our fine Mathematics Department is changing with the times. Mathematics is an ever advancing field. As new theories, formulas, and equations come in, they are presented to us. Our textbooks are revised systematically so that we are up with the times. We appreciate the advantage of up-to-date information.

In the Foods class girls are taught how to prepare many appetizing meals that have both eye and taste appeal. They learn to prepare many types of food and are instructed in the art of thrift. Here we see one of their other many feats, that of table arrangement. From left to right are Linda Granados, Elvira Diaz, Bob Leek, who is lucky enough to be the girls' guest for the day, and Pat Rupp.

Mrs. Gayne's Clothing I and II classes worked busily this year to produce articles of fine quality. Here Susy Willis, who worked hard and carefully in the making of this dress and hat, is proudly showing them to her friends. This year the girls began by making a suit from a professional pattern. Next they went to the larger task of designing and creating their own garment. This job took three months, one month to design and two to make.

These Women Serve Us

Many have contributed to a successful year here at Fullerton Union High School. The clerks in the bookstore have carried stock for the everyday needs of the students, and taken care of the school textbooks. The cafeteria workers have prepared many hot, tasty lunches for the students. Our secretaries have been on the job everyday, playing an important part in the function of this campus. Our thanks go to all these ladies for their patience and hard work.

Since our school was established in 1893, our library has supplied much educational and enjoyable reading material. The class of 1893 consisted of eight pupils and one teacher. The library contained only thirty-two books, a fraction of today's twenty thousand volumes.

Our beautiful library, which was built in 1923, was originally a copy of the famous library of the University of Salmanca in Madrid, but because of the 1934 earthquake a few changes have been made. Damaged slightly, the library was partially rebuilt.

In the 1930's the Junior College used the library along with the students here. When their own library was built, some of their college level books remained here. Thus, our library has the advantage of an extensive variety of material. Our library is so outstanding that it is rated one of the best in Orange County, and perhaps the entire state.

Esther Dunham, Student Body Bookkeeper and Textbook Clerk; and Helen Casper, Textbook Clerk.

Frances Sullivan, Librarian; and Margaret Kessler, Head Librarian.

They Have Served

The Fullerton Union High School District was the first in the United States to have bus service. Since then we have come to rely on our bus drivers, who have transported hundreds of students throughout the year. These loyal workers not only served the needs of our school, but of all the high schools in this district. Driving buses for extra-curricular activities is another function performed by our staff of bus drivers. We sincerely thank these gentlemen for their courteous, dependable service.

While Jess Hurado and his crew of custodians have kept our classrooms and facilities clean, the maintenance crew has been busy planting, cutting, trimming, and sweeping trying to keep our campus green and clean. The gym attendants, Mr. Swain and Mrs. Schubert, have also assisted this year by caring for the school athletic equipment. We thank them all for the services they have performed. An especially big thanks, though, goes to "Bert" who, after thirteen years of service, is leaving us.

CLASSES

"All experience is an arch."

President Jon McAulay

Senior Class

The seniors swung out this year with the spirit and fervor that made the school proud of them. They decorated their corner for Christmas this year with a gaily colored sled upon which the Fat Man himself rode, pulled along by three reindeer. Their playnight consisted of a boisterous exuberation of activity which was typical of them. After the end of the third quarter, the final weeks of the seniors' residence at this school passed by at a fast clip. The end of the year was highlighted by the presentation of California Scholarship Life Memberships to twelve worthy students and the graduation of 353 students on June 14.

Junior Class

The junior class experienced a surprisingly successful year. The main objective of the class was to earn the money to sponsor the annual Junior-Senior Prom. The money raising projects consisted of concession stands at the home football games, sponsorship of the October dance, and the collection of class dues. A few of the other highlights during the year were placing first in the bullring decoration contest at Christmas, receiving class rings, and having a high percentage of the class present at their playnight. But, all good things must come to an end, as did this year with the grand finale--Prom. For the past three years the class has dreamed and schemed for this night of enchantment. Congratulations for a job well done.

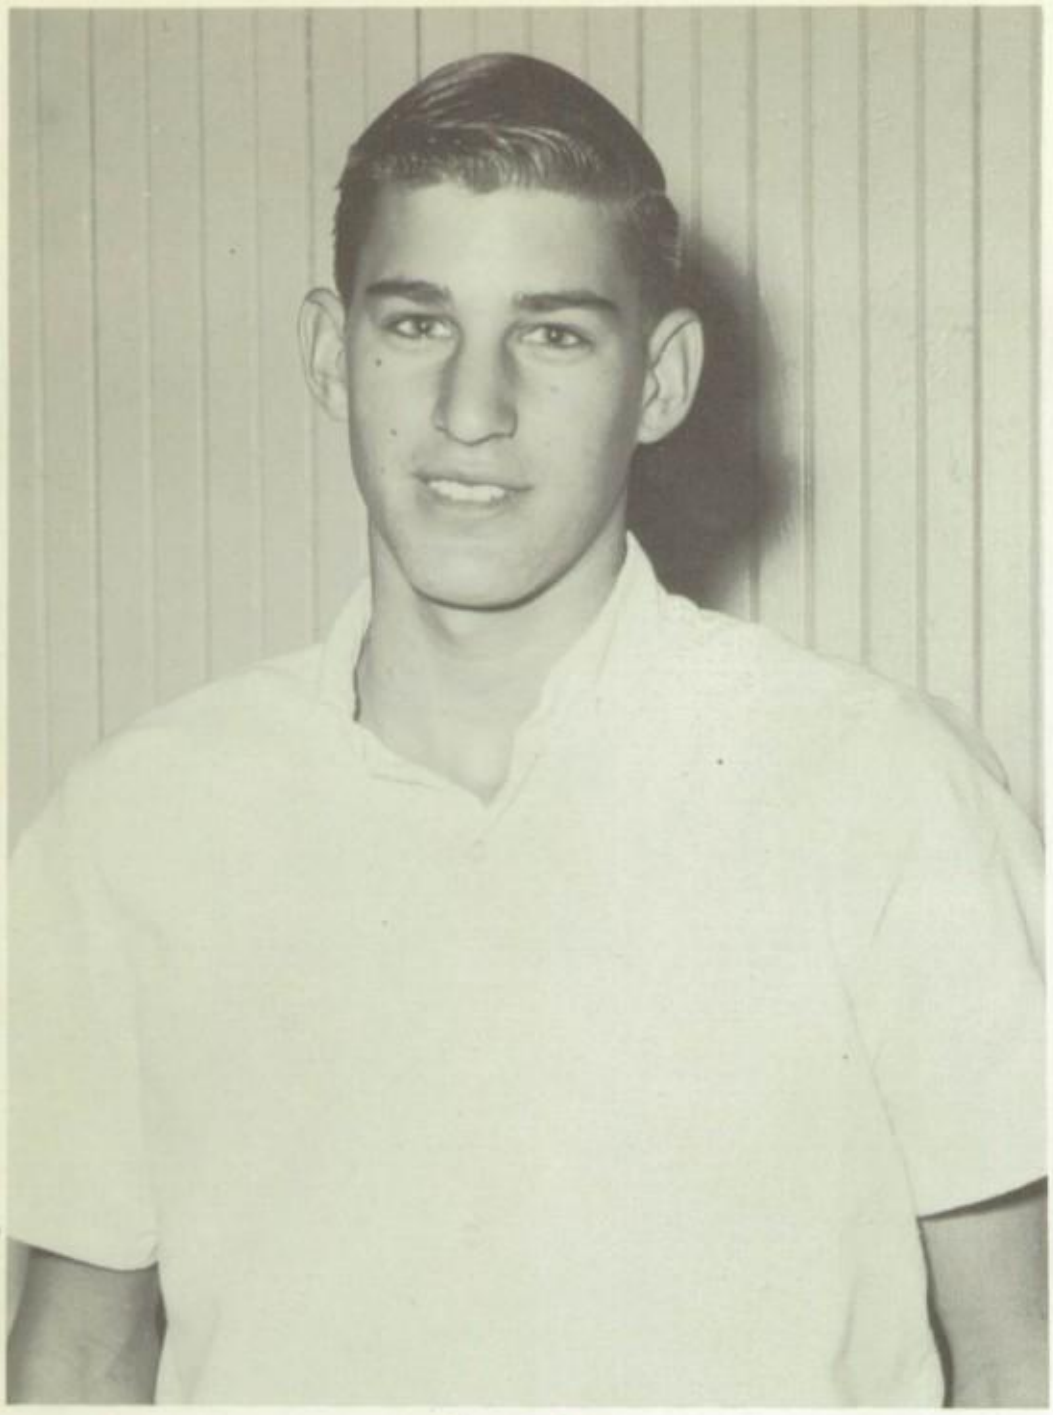
What's new? Juniors gather at their own exclusive bullring to catch up on the latest chatter.

Happy teenagers enjoy dancing to the music of the juke box in the student lounge after school.



President John Snow

Sophomore Class

The sophomores entered their second year at Fullerton Union High School with a capable corps of expert officers hoping to make this year one of the best. Striving to achieve higher grades and maintain good citizenship to prepare themselves, the sophomore class considers their future seriously. This year the sophomore counselors set up special classes to help make plans for future careers. Socially the sophomores have sponsored an after-game dance, which was one of the highlights of the year, and also a sophomore play-night. They have given their support to all school activities by electing their own song and yell leaders, choosing class colors of blue and white, collecting class dues and competing in the bullring Christmas decorating contest.

Freshmen Class

President David Lowe

The 1962 freshmen class, led by David Lowe, has had an active and successful year. Among their activities were collecting class dues and distributing class membership cards. A freshmen playnight, given in the gym and featuring dancing, games, and refreshments, was a highlight of the year. The freshmen also competed in the Christmas bullring decoration contest. A class council was formed with the freshmen from Student Council acting as representatives. This council met with the purpose of discussing class plans and problems and presenting them to the students in their various history classes. Here the students are given the opportunity to voice their criticisms and their suggestions.

Ticket Sales Improve Greatly

A new organization on campus this year was the Ticket Committee. The members of this association were chosen by the Associated Student Body treasurer and Mr. Kill, Dean of Students. The Ticket Committee handled all sales which were concerned with Associated Student Body money. The members of the committee often gave up their noon hours and time after school to execute student body sales. For their time and effort, the members of the Ticket Committee received free Student Body Cards and free annuals. Susan Preston, Associated Student Body Treasurer, served as chairman of the committee.

Weekly Pleiades Wins Recognition

Miss Margery Lash
Weekly Pleiades Advisor

Under the advisorship of Miss Margery Lash, the Weekly Pleiades was published by Journalism II students. The editors led their staff in obtaining and evaluating the news which did much to aid student organizations and activities. It is the official newspaper of the student body and covers all news from culture to sports.

This year the staff attended the U.C.L.A.-Vanderbilt football game after a conference held for journalism students. The staff was awarded a first place certificate in recognition of merit from the "National Scholastic Press Association."

The final Pleiades edition of the year was highlighted by the publication of "senior wills".

Student Body Officers

Many students don't seem to realize the hard work and the amount of time that is spent by the student body officers and the officio members of the Executive Board. Each year, through them, our student government continues to strengthen the unity of the Student Body and faculty.

Student Body Vice President, Cliff Moberg, was constantly kept busy by being in charge of elections, revising the constitution, and being the presiding officer over Student Congress.

Nancy James, secretary, wrote the minutes and planned the agendas for the Executive Board, was in charge of the correspondence, and served as a contact between organizations and the board.

Student Body Treasurer, Susan Preston, was in charge of all student body finances, was responsible for the selling of Student Body Cards and prepared the annual budget.

Connie Hoffman, social chairman, was in charge of all the dances. She made arrangements for bands and took charge of decorations.

Ex-Officio Members Of Executive Board

The main objective of the ex-officio members of the Associated Student Body was to voice their opinions at the Executive Board meetings. The ex-officio members of Executive Board were not allowed to vote, but by their participation in the discussions on certain matters they often were responsible for the final vote. The ex-officio members of the Student Body were responsible for representing their orgainizations' problems. The ex-officio members' ideas were the basis for new policies which were accepted this year. Besides representing their class in Student Congress, the class presidents were ex-officio members of Executive Board. Every organization was represented directly or indirectly on Executive Board by officio or ex-officio members.

Student Offenses Judged Fairly

Student Court handled many varied cases this year. The first sessions were held in October when plans were formed and procedures reviewed. Cases during the year were all concerned with offenses by students against the student body. These offenses ranged from littering the campus to the more serious offenses such as smoking on campus.

Students were cited by other members of the student body and given tirals during one of the Tuesday sessions. Each offender was allowed to present his case, plead guilty or innocent, and bring in witnesses if necessary. The court then judged the case and issued penalties to students who were found guilty. During the year the court also interpreted the constitution.

Les Evans did a just and consistent job as chief Justice. All of the nine court members worked energetically to prove to the student body that student court can play an effective part in student government as a law-enforcing body.

Student Congress Serves

A Complete Year

Under the leadership of Associated Student Body Vice President, Clifton Moberg, Student Congress had a very successful year. The following changes initiated this year strengthened the Congress greatly. Each representative served for two semesters, Congress was given a veto power over the Executive Board, and representatives attended meetings of the Executive Board. These changes brought the two legislative bodies, Student Congress and the Executive Board, closer together in student government.

One of the most important activities of Student Congress was helping to carry out the American Field Service fund-raising drive. The enthusiasm of the representatives in their classes contributed to the great success of the drive.

Gary Farmer served as president pro-tempore of Congress and attended some of the Executive Board meetings.

Patty Grimes served as secretary and Jim Clarke kept order in the sometimes heated debates during the Student Congress meetings.

This year, Student Congress fulfilled its objectives more effectively than ever. Each student was represented in the government.

Campus Scholars Are Honored

In 1917, Miss Nellie A. Rumsey founded the Fullerton scholarship society, Pleiads, one of the oldest organizations on this campus. At that time there was no state scholarship organization, so Miss Rumsey named it "The Pleiads" (Ple ads) after the school symbol, the Pleiades (Ple a dez). The members of this society have earned ten grade points each semester. In order to become a life member, a student had to maintain this status for at least four semesters, one of which had to be in the senior year. Life members are awarded a Gold Seal on their diplomas. This year the members of the society spent their free day off campus at the University of Southern California and the Los Angeles Art Museum.

A. W. S. Encouraged Spirit of Friendship

The Associated Women Students started the year off successfully with the Big and Little Sister Party. The purpose of the group was to encourage a spirit of friendship among girls and to promote activities beneficial to the school. Under the leadership of A.W.S. President Susie Reddy, the organization sponsored many worthwhile activities. Their first assembly helped to explain the "do's" and "don'ts" of F.U.H.S. to the girls and the second one was a very popular Teen Topper fashion show. The highlight of the year for A.W.S. was their sponsorship of the annual Girl Date Dance, which gives each female a chance to snag a stag!

Members of the Associated Women Students busily decorate for the annual Girl Date dance, and an unusually large turn out rewarded their efforts.

The A.M.S. annual car show attracted inquisitive onlookers.

A. M. S. Promotes School Spirit

The Associated Men Students have been striving to promote school spirit and to create good fellowship and sportsmanship among all the boys in the student body. This year their activities included sponsoring A.M.S. assemblies, maintenance of the breezeway bulletin board, and a spring car show. Weeks of planning were spent by both A.M.S. President, John Pepper, and each of the boys entering the competition. After careful consideration of each of the cars, trophies were awarded to the winners in each of the divisions.

School Architecture Inspires New Theme

This year, the members of the 1961-1962 Annual Pleiades staff spent many long, tedious days rushing to meet deadlines. First the page layouts were completed, followed by many days of picture taking and copy writing. Although it is quite a hectic job to produce a yearbook, the annual staff under the supervision of Miss Margery Lash, our new annual advisor, and Jan Patton, whose experience and leadership spurred us on, made it possible to complete an annaul which we hope is both pleasing and enjoyable.

Ken Gepfert, Business Manager and DiAnne White, Assistant Editor.

Miss Lash, who hails from Long Beach State and who incidentally majored in English and minored in social science, did a very fine job of trying her hand at journalism and publications as our advisor and consultant.

Clubs Revise Outdated Constitutions

The object of the Inter-Club Council was to discuss problems and find solutions for the various school clubs. I.C.C. was the only school organization where clubs had an opporunity to get together to suggest ideas for club activities. Hard work went into the revision of the I.C.C. Constitution. A file was completed for the Student Body containing all club constitutions, some of which were also revised. I.C.C. includes all club presidents and the four class presidents. The Inter-Club Council President, Sharon Renck, called monthly meetings with the advisor, Mr. Armijo, and assistant advisor, Mr. Jackson.

Jane Lawrence
A.F.S. President

A. F. S. Committee

Under the inspiring leadership of Jane Lawrence, the American Field Service had a very succesful year. Thanks to the enthusiasm of the student body in selling light bulbs and first aid kits, approximately $700 was raised toward the sponsorship of a foreign exchange student. Because they were unable to find a home for an exchange student this year, A.F.S. did not sponsor one. Other projects sponsored by A.F.S. included the presentation of two assemblies, one which consisted of slides of Jane Lawrence's trip to Holland and her stay there, and the other of a trans-atlantic phone conversation with Lars Christensen, last year's foreign exchange student from Denmark.

Big "F" is the Girls' Varsity Club. Its purpose is to uphold the ideals of the Big "F" and to continue the work that the G.A.A. (Girls' Athletic Association), has begun in developing well-balanced girls who are mentally, emotionally, and socially well adjusted. This year, because of the stiff requirements, Ann Heise was the only member at the beginning of the year. Most girls do not have enough points until the end of their senior year.

Lettermen Comprise Varsity Club

The Varsity club, composed of the athletes who had earned a Varsity letter, is one of the most prominent and respected clubs on our campus. The members have always upheld this reputation by bringing honors and victories to our school in all of their athletic endeavors. This year was no exception.

Choosing the nominees for Homecoming Queen is one of the jobs the club looks forward to. This year the queen was vivacious Linda Smith. They also select the athletes who will receive the Most Inspirational Player awards in each sport.

Football, basketball, waterpolo, baseball, tennis and track were the sports in which the varsity members worked in order to earn their letters. The varsity club is the group the girls worshiped, screamed for during games, and blushed for if a glance from the boys came their way.

Hi-Y Develops Good Character

The goal of Hi-Y was to create, maintain, and extend, throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character.

Under the inspiring leadership of Ron Mason, the club was successful in such activities as service projects, state model legislature, sports activities and the Faculty Recognition. Other activities included selling Christmas trees, going on campouts, ice skating, bowling, golfing, basketball, and track. The main functions were sending a delegate to the Yosemite Leadership Conference, participating in planning for the district's delegation to the Youth and Government, and sponsoring the Spring Play. Hi-Y is open to all boys and is sponsored by the Fullerton Y.M.C.A.

Y-Teens Render Many Services

The Y-Teens, again this year, successfully carried out many service projects, entertaining activities and programs for its members. The girls of Y-Teens learned what a good feeling it is to be able to help those who are in need and to do their part in serving their community as they did at Halloween, when they collected canned goods for needy families. They also made articles of clothing, toys, and other articles for different organizations. Through the entire year, these girls continued to render many worthwhile services.

Idakas

Idakas had many successful service projects during the year. The members collected $123 for the March of Dimes. During the Christmas holidays the girls dressed as Santa's helpers and collected funds for Care. They were busy during the year ushering for many school sponsored activities such as back-to-school night, open house, and tennis matches. The members also dressed thirty "Chatty Kathy" dolls at Christmas for the Volunteer Bureau. Careful planning went into sponsoring the Roaring 20's dance, "Flapper Daze", in February. The Idaka advisors were Mrs. Wilson, Miss Quigley, and Miss Newton. Membership was open to Junior and Senior girls.

Key Club

This year, under the proficient leadership of Dennis Towle, the Key Club performed many worthwhile activities. The first project undertaken was ushering at Back-to-School Night. Other projects included a car wash, decoration of a float for Homecoming, collection of gifts for children at the Orthopaedic Hospital in Los Angeles, and sponsorship of the annual Beachcomber's Ball. At the end of the year a delegation from the club attended the California-Nevada-Hawaii Convention held in San Diego.

Year Highlighted By Banquet

The Latin Club enjoyed a very eventful and prosperous year. Under the leadership of Bryan Conover and his executive board, the events were successfully planned and carried out. The initiation picnic at nearby Hillcrest Park started the year off with a bang. Those first year students wishing to join the club had to perform some hilarious stunts. A good turnout of twenty-one delegates attended the 1962 Junior Classical League Convention in El Segundo this year. The highlight of the year was the annual Roman Banquet which was held jointly with the Sunny Hills High School Latin Club.

Tom Bowne
President

This year the Spanish Club, under the competent leadership of President Tom Bowne, enjoyed a tremendous year which included Pan Dulce, (sweetbread) sales, and Spanish potluck dinners with interesting guest speakers. Early in the year, the club held their initiation dinner for all the new Spanish Club members. For their initiation, the new members did a skit and memorized a Spanish oath. At Christmas time, the Spanish club held their annual Las Posadas (the procession) which consisted of a dinner and the procession. In the spring the club held their annual spring picnic with record attendance. The other Spanish club officers were Eddie Trip, Vice-President, Linda Turner, Treausrer; and Karen Horrocks, Secretary.

The first German Club meeting was held three years ago and was a big success. This year the German Club again got off to a good start with an opening banquet. The purpose of the club is to acquaint members with the customs and language of German speaking countries. All students taking German were invited to come and join in the many activities sponsored throughout the year. Mr. McIntosh, the capable ad-advisor, worked closely with Kit Baker, the president, to insure a smoothly running club. Pot-lucks, guest speakers and films were sponsored throughout the year.

German Club Big Success

The French Club was one of the most active organizations on this campus. The major part of each meeting was carried on in the French language. The initiation consisted of the new members stuffing 15 crackers in their mouths and then whistling. For a Christmas activity the German Club invited the French Club to a supper. In return, the French club hosted the German Club at a gala Mardi Gras Night which featured the students dressed in a variety of gay costumes. This year, as in previous years, the club took a trip to the light opera in Los Angeles to see a musical comedy.

Artists "Canvas" The Campus

The Art Club this year sponsored a membership drive to build their organization. The club was open to all seniors, juniors and second semester sophomores who were interested in bettering themselves in art. They also had to have a "B" average. Membership was acquired by submitting a portfolio of five dated pieces of work, not done as a problem for art classes, and filling in a questionnaire. Applicants were selected by secret ballot of members and approval of advisors. The club this year spent time at the beach sketching and painting, and went on various other field trips to visit art shows, museums, and movies. Also, under the able direction of their club advisor, Mrs. Irene Randall, they were able to explore art more extensively.

Competent Committee Gets Speedy Results

This year student body elections went off very smoothly due to the efficient organization of this years Election Board. Clifton Moberg was in charge of all elections, and his Election Board was responsible for "getting out the vote," and getting the election returns out early and correctly. Students interested in Election Board, signed up at the beginning of the year.

DiAnne White, tabulations manager, helped on last year's Election Board, and was an important person in this year's elections. Carol Dickson was in charge of printing the ballots and Barbara Middleton was responsible for having the pictures of the candidates taken and posted.

Improved Agriculture is Goal

Darrell Knox
Vice-president

The Future Farmers of America enjoyed a very successful year with various activities, which included trips, interesting conventions, projects, and fairs. Cindy Peters, the Future Farmers' lovely Sweetheart, served as their charming hostess during national Future Farmers' Week. This week was set aside to honor the Future Farmers and what they have done throughout the United States. The primary aims of the Future Farmers of America were to develop fine and expert agricultural leadership, cooperation and good citizenship, thrift and service to their school and their community. The Future Farmers helped the boys to improve their love for their country, to strengthen their confidence, to help them participate in worthy undertaking and to improve agriculture.

Many students here on campus are planning to go into the field of teaching. For this reason, the Future Teachers of America has become a very popular club. A special activity was planned for each month of the year. Some of their many activities included several interesting field trips, pot-lucks, talks by various teachers and a couple of days of practice teaching which proved to be fun. They ended their successful year with a well planned party.

Needy travel enthusiasts attempt to hitch a ride to some desired destination.

If You Have The Urge To Travel....

Travel Club is for all students of FUHS who have the urge to travel. Various plans were discussed to capture the interest of both male and female members of the club. After the members' ideas were submitted, the advisor, Miss Esther Pierce, went over them and made further suggestions. Thus, the desires of everyone were fulfilled and they were all able to have a satisfying time.

The unique activity will be a trip to Hawaii, in August. With Miss Pierce as guide, this trip is open to all students who wish to go. A wonderful time is planned for everyone on this island paradise.

All those ice skating enthusiasts, amateurs or professionsls, were cordially invited to join in on the ice skating activities that were carried on by the members of Ice Caps. Almost twice each month, a trip was taken to one of the various ice skating rinks around the area. A great deal of time was spent in the careful planning of their many activities, one of which was a trip to Catalina. All the activities during the 1961-62 school year supplied the members with plenty of spills, chills, and thrills.

New Club Wins Popularity

A newly established organization on the campus this year was the Biology Club. The main purpose of the club was to acquaint students with biology and its related fields; distribute valuable scientific information by way of speeches, films, and printed literature; and interest students in further study of biology, chemistry, and physics. They had a lively format this year consisting of the election of officers, the difficult job of drafting their constitution, and their field trip to the California Technical Institute. Throughout the year their attendance rate grew and the club prospered. It is certain that this club is one that will stand proudly with all of the many fine clubs of F.U.H.S.

S. M. S. Broadens Scopes

The Student Medical Society, a new organization on this campus, was sponsored by the combined efforts of the Orange County Medical Association and St. Jude Hospital. Its purpose was to attract those students who had shown an interest in medicine, with the purpose of broadening their concepts of the opportunities in medicine and related fields. A doctor from the community and the participating hospital assisted in arranging informative programs for the students. The students conferred with representatives of the various professions, watched movies of recent medical research, visited clinical laboratories, and received personal counseling.

Forensics Again Win Top Honors

The Forensic Club is known for its successful speaking and debating activities. The strictly business meetings were called only when necessary. There were committee reports, discussions, voting proposals; and finances were an eternal question. The social hour was delightful. Something to look forward to at the end of the year was the annual banquet. Having guest speakers was also part of the program. Anyone was welcome to join the Forensic Club.

Club Broadens Knowledge of Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts Club was organized for those students who took the various shop courses which include, wood, metal, automotive, electronics and handicrafts. The purpose is to give the industrial arts students the recognition they deserve for their services to the school and the student body. Such projects provide an opportunity for the students to broaden their education in the fields of industrial arts. This club offers the boys experience that might aid them in future years.

Their activities included a number of fine films and interesting projects. All students who took an active interest in industrial arts courses and were getting average or above average grades were invited to join in on the activities of this club.

Stage Craft Crew busily prepare set for Spring Play, "Arsenic and Old Lace."

Co-operation Please

Co-operation!!! Co-Operation!!!" yells the stage manager. A set comes crashing to the floor. A light bar descends to the stage. "This section needs another amber spot," shouts a voice. . .And once again the seventh period stage craft crew class of Mr. Charles Peters is under way.

Unity was the key to the accomplishments that were made throughout the year by these able workers. Among their duties were the designing and constructing of sets, and the lighting of the stage to attain the correct effects. Before a play was produced, a drawing of the setting was made and sometimes a model constructed. Then a working layout was made and the set constructed from it. The end product of all their labors was a wonderful play which reflected the ability of the workers.

Interest In Sports!

The energetic leaps and girations of the Yell Leaders sparked enthusiasm in the crowds that attended the major sporting events which took place this year. They were complemented by a vivacious group of Song Leaders who played a large part in promoting school spirit. The Featherettes, made up of forty-four talented girls, added beauty and color with their precision routines and, of course, the can can.

The Band, which provided the music for most of our fames, was directed by Mr. Nelson Bonar and led by Drum Major, Art Nava. The Majorettes also displayed their many talents at these gala events, along with the Flag Twirlers who won approval from the crowd and the student body. These girls were chosen for their skill and talent which they displayed at the rallies and games.

Dressed in the traditional Indian buckskin, war paint, and war bonnet, Stan Mason portrayed Willie Ugh, Fullerton's spirited mascot. His cheers and antics were enjoyed by all.

As in past years, Fullerton High's music department is again a credit to the school. Two of the larger and more advanced groups that performed this year are the Concert Choir and Orchestra. The choral and instrumental groups presented the Annual Christmas Assembly on December 20th. Their selection, arrangement and presentation of music lent an atmosphere of gaiety to the Christmas season.

Mr. Nelson Bonar was a very busy man again during the 1961-'62 school year. He directed Band, Orchestra, Concert Choir and Mixed Chorus.

Kathy Meehan, who also served as organist last year, entertained us again this year at assemblies.

Augmenting the music department was Mixed Chorus, Freshmen Girls; Chorus and Advanced Girls' Chorus under the direction of Mr. Nelson Bonar and Mr. George Burt.

Mr. George Burt spent an industrious year directing Girls' Chorus I and II and Combined Girls' Chorus, who were all a credit to their instructor.

Homecoming Festivities Enjoyed By All

Our 1961 Homecoming Queen, Miss Linda Smith, enthroned in a lavendar pagoda, watched over the students, teachers, and alumni as they danced to the music of Keith Williams in the midst of the Japanese Theme of "Mystic Orchid."

During the game half-time with Garden Grove, the queen and her court were seated on a beautiful float, where A.S.B. President Micky McGill, assisted by Willie Ugh (Stan Mason), crowned our queen.

Queen Candidates

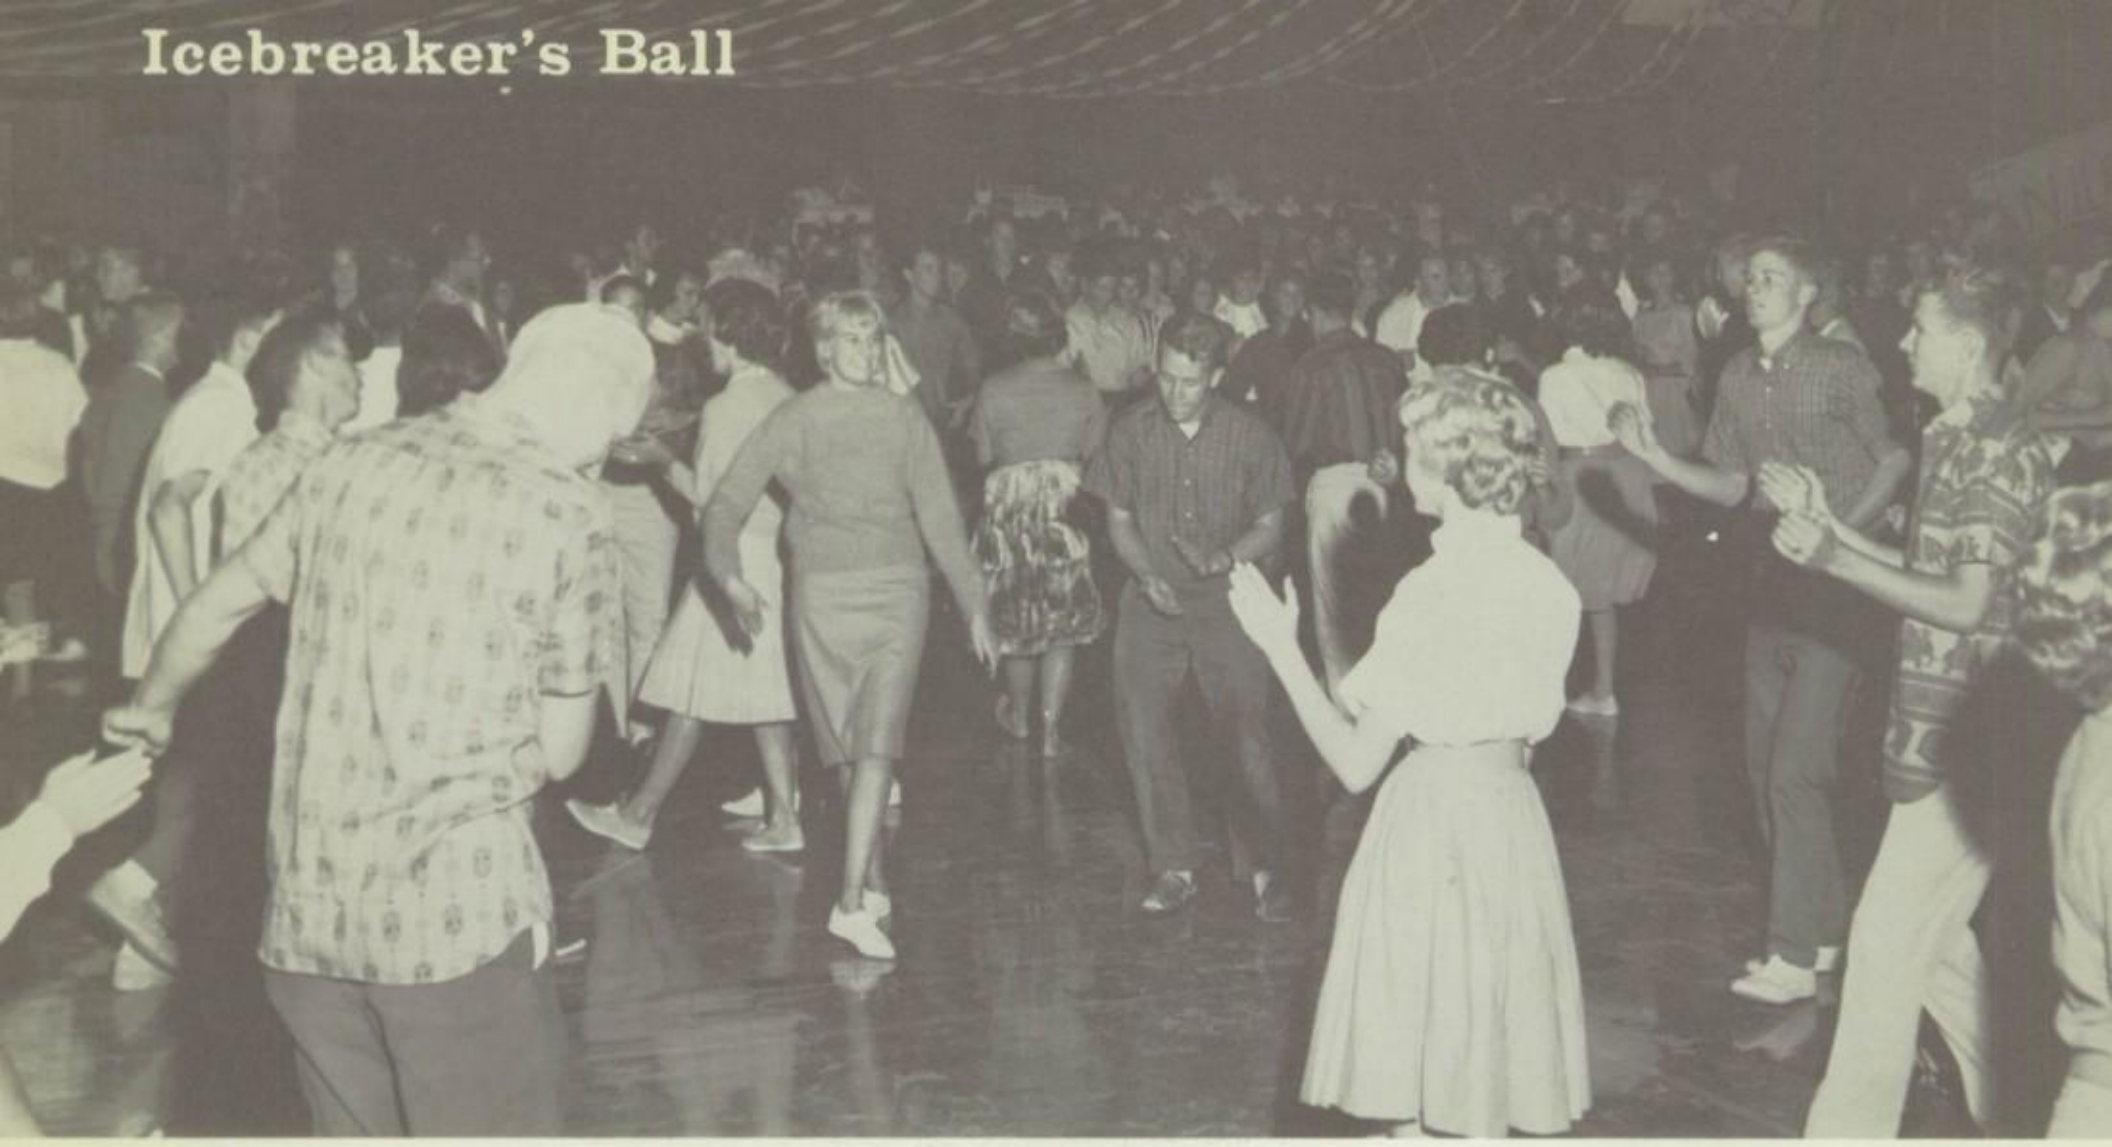
Chosen for beauty and popularity by the varsity and junior varsity football teams were queen candidates: Linda Smith, Marti Wrigley, Dianne Baker, and Mary Fletcher. These four senior girls competed the following week with posters, banners and other campaign media.

Half-time Activities

The queen and her court were introduced in the half-time festivities at the Homecoming game with Garden Grove. The queen was presented with a boquet of long stemmed red roses and a glittering crown by A.S.B. President Mickey McGill.

Homecoming Assemblies

Our annual Homecoming assembly honored the class of 1936 with skits reminiscent of the past memories of the alumni. The song and yell leaders lead the alumni, along with the faculty and students, in old and new yells which helped to build the nostalgia of their return to our campus.



Stag Dances are Big Success

Oh- - how the gym floor suffered with our two stag dances this year. In September, the new dance craze, the "stomp" was introduced into full swing at the "Icebreaker's Ball". Next, in January, came the "Sombrero Stomp," and the "twist" was introduced to those who didn't already know it. The "stomp" and "twist" caught on quite rapidly and those unfortunate ones who were unable to find a partner used a wooden chair.

Roaring Twenties Era Returns

Silent movies, bathtub "gin", flapper dresses and such dances as the Shimmy, the Blackbottom, and the Charleston were recalled at this year's Valentine Dance called "Flapper Daze". This dance was sponsored by the girls' service club, Idakas, with music provided by Dick Kirkman and his band. Decorations for the dance followed the theme of a Prohibition-time speak-easy with the normal entrance innocently disguised as the secret speak-easies were then.

Fullerton Gals Treat the Guys

This year, as always, the AWS was the sponsor of the gleeful affair of Girl Date, which was entitled "Cotton Candy". The girls' gym was transformed into a replica of an old-fashioned carnival. Also a big event of the dance was the crowning of "Mr. Flirtation" by AWS president Susan Reddy. The winner, after turning in 158 hush tickets, was junior Dale Crabtree. Runner-up was John James with 154 hush tickets.

Assemblies were Interesting and Worthwhile

The Y-Teen assembly presented the El Toro Marine Band in our first combined assembly for the year. Old songs, ballads, and hit tunes were a big success with the students.

With the freshmen in the balcony, sophomores to the left, juniors to the right, and the seniors in the center section, our first combined assembly for the school year was a success.

This is just one of the many funny skits performed at the Homecoming assembly along with the presentation of the royalty. Most everyone agreed that Jim Clarke stole the show.

Pow Wow Keeps Indian Theme

For the first time in many years, the title "Pow Wow" was the name of our Pow Wow dance held Friday, April 13, from 9 to 12 p.m. in our Indian decorated gym. Providing the music were the Disneyland Datenighters. Highlight of the night was the presentation of the royalty. Emcee of the ceremony was Dennis Towle, while Susan Reddy, AWS president, escorted the King, Ron Ledesma. Mickey McGill, Student Body President, escorted the Queen, Sherry Ruse, and the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior class presidents escorted the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior attendants, respectively.

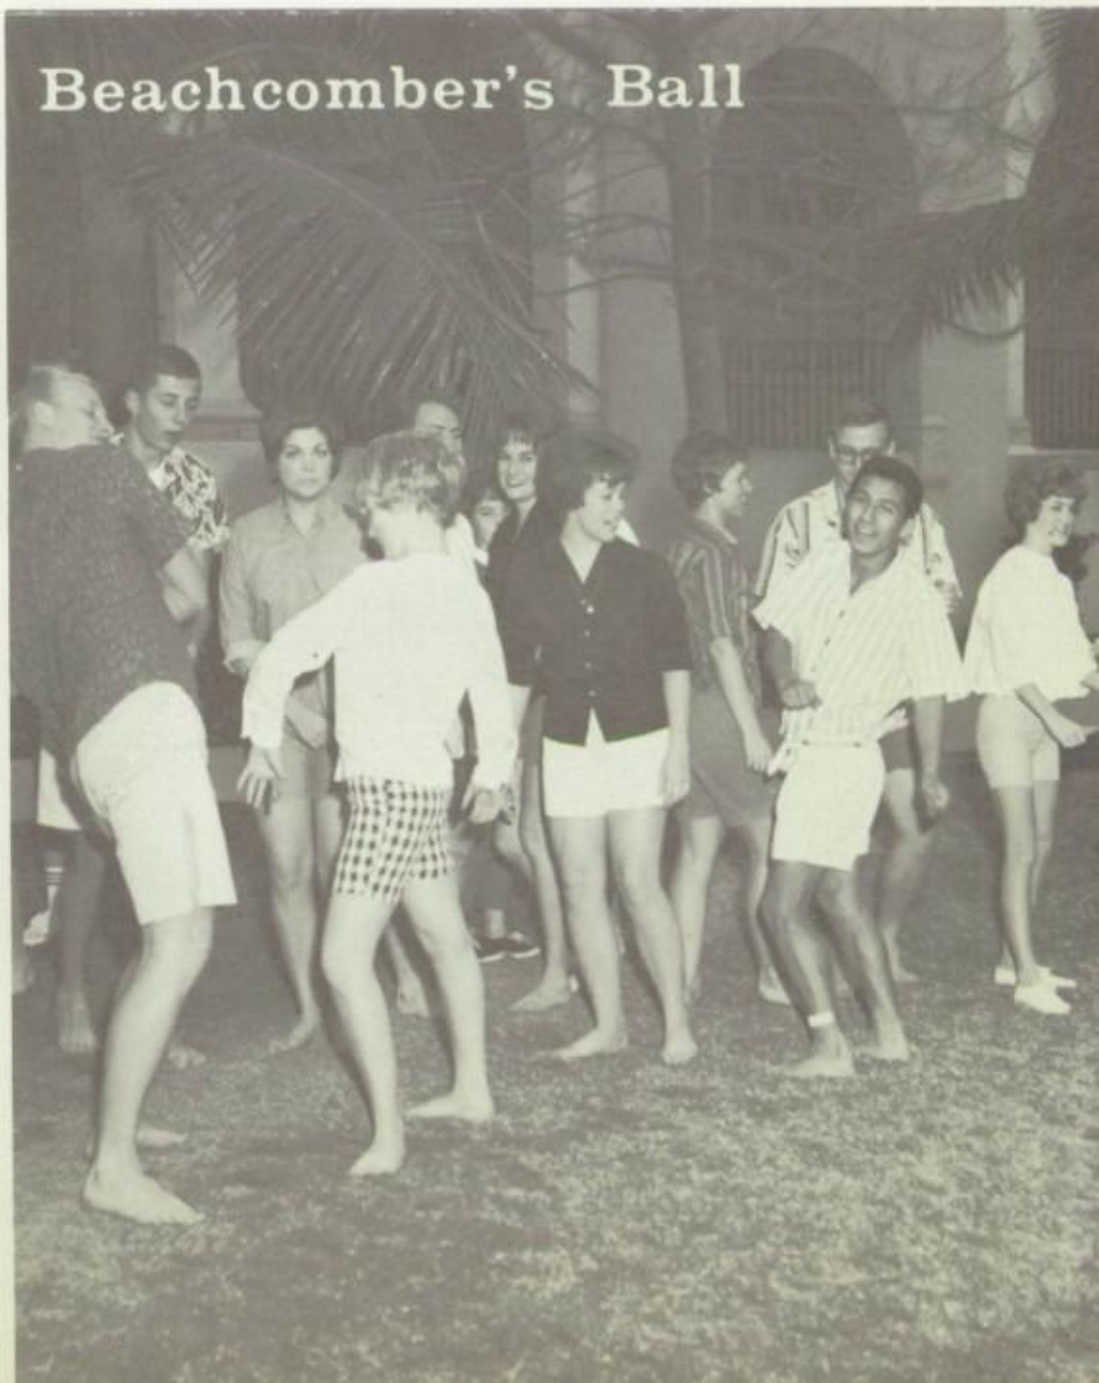
Tennis Courts Transformed to Paradise

Decorations left entirely in the capable hands of the Key Club members, our tennis courts were truly transformed into a south sea paradise. Couples dressed in casual sportswear danced to music provided by Marshall Cram. A wonderful romantic time was enjoyed by everyone.



Prom... A Dance to Remember

Gay laughter and moonlight lent a romantic atmosphere to our annual junior-senior prom, where many couples, especially seniors, recalled the happy moments and the great times they experienced during the past year at Fullerton. Prom held in the Fullerton Junior College lounge, provided many cherished memories which will be remembered by all in the years to come.

"Harvey"...Fall Comedy

"Harvey" by Mary Chase, the story of Elwood P. Dowd and his six foot "Pooka" Harvey, which is a large white invisible rabbit, was presented to the student body and public on October 27, 28 and November 4 and 5. This fall play included Diane DeMink as Veta Simmons, a proper society matron who is quite disturbed by her brother Elwood's eccentricity. Susan Bauman as Veta's daughter Myrtle to whom Elwood always causes social embarrassment and Dennis Curry as the wealthy eccentric Elwood P. Dowd. Others in the play included Janie Atwater as Miss Johnson; Cindy Murphy as Mrs. Ethel Chauvenat, Anita Seals as nurse, Ruth Kelly and Bill Bryant as Duane Wilson. Steve Clapp and John Modgling play the parts of Lyman Sanderson and William R. Chumley, M.D.: Susan Remley as Betty Chumley, Gary Aldrich as Judge Omar Gaffney and Steve Tuttle as E.J. Lofgren. The actor who played Harvey will remain unknown and only those who saw the play know his true identity. Do you??

Under the direction of Mr. Charles Peters with the assistance of Mary Mock, stage manager and Charles Kading, technical manager, our 1961 fall play was a huge success.

"Arsenic and Old Lace"... Spring Mystery

"Arsenic and Old Lace" was a hilarious comedy written by Joseph Kesselring concerning two elderly maden aunts who lure older men into their rooming house and poison them. The maiden aunts, Abby and Martha Brewster, were played by Delilah Shrum and Ramona Moran respectively. Others who participated in the mystery, which was presented to the student body and public on March 2 and 3, were Dick Adams as Dr. Harper, John Modgling as Teddy Brewster, Mike Gallup as Officer Brophy, and Bill Bonar as Officer Klein. Karen Richards played Elaine Harper; Mike Warren, Mortimer Brewster; Bill Bryant, Mr. Gibbs; and Dave MacDonald, Jonathan Brewster. Steve Tuttle portrayed Dr. Einstein; Dennis Curry, Officer O'Hara; Dave Goldman, Lt. Rooney; and Ed Crafts, Mr. Witherspoon. The play was a very big success under the capable direction of Mr. Charles Peters, drama teacher and Diane DeMink, student director. As in the Fall Play the technical manager was Charles Kading, who with the help of the stage craft class did a superb job.

SPORTS

"If I should lose, let me
stand by the road and cheer as the winners go by!"

Ledesma rips off a big gain as Osborn clears the way.

Faced with a massive rebuilding problem, Fullerton's Coach Gil Tucker and his able assistants, Mr. Bob Van Voorhis, Mr. James Hamner, and Mr. Richard Jackson, whipped the Indians into a well-rounded, close working unit. The tribesmen were off and running as they chalked up two non-league victories over Downey, and cross town rival, Sunny Hills. The Indians then opened up Sunset League play and were handed their first loss of the season by the La Habra Highlanders.

Co-captain, John Pepper

Besides fulfilling his responsibilities as AMS president, John Pepper was a great asset to this year's varsity football team. He was placed on coaches all-league team, "Times" all-county second team, and on the all-district team.

During his long tenure at Fullerton, Gil Tucker has coached many powerful elevens. Tucker has also assisted Hugo DeGroot as a track coach, and together they have developed several championship class squads.

J. V.'s End with 2-6-0 Record

The J.V. team warms up before a game.

Under the leadership of Coach James Hamner, the J.V. football team fought hard throughout the season. Though they won only two of the eight games played, a terrific spirit was maintained by the team. Ted Owens was voted the most inspirational player, John James most valuable, and Butch Smith captain.

Varsity Poloists Have Successful Season

A goal is attempted by Fullerton in the exciting Sierra game.

This past season, Coach Lee Arth's varsity water poloists highlighted another winning year by competing in the CIF southern sectional playoffs. The Indians, with a 12-6 record, finished third in the Sunset League. Dan Neyenhuis and Russ Webb were selected for the all Sunset League first team. Russ Webb also received the outstanding honor of Sunset League Player of the Year.

Fullerton scores again as hopeful opponents close in too late.

In C competition, the Redskin poloists smashed all opposition. They were undefeated in eleven games, seven of which were in the Sunset League. Four Indians were named to the all-league team. This quartet, Jim Christianson, Phil Hudson, Jeff Pearce, and Jay Beham, sparked one of the most powerful C squads in Southern California, and they should be the nucleus of winning varisty teams in the next few years.

C C A Displays Winning Spirit

The cross country team displayed a new surge of spirit this year. The Varsity team, although finishing fifth in league play, ran with untiring determination at every new meet. George Esqueda, captain for the second year, received the Most Valuable Player award. Junior Varsity also demonstrated great spirit. Their efforts were rewarded by placing second in the League.

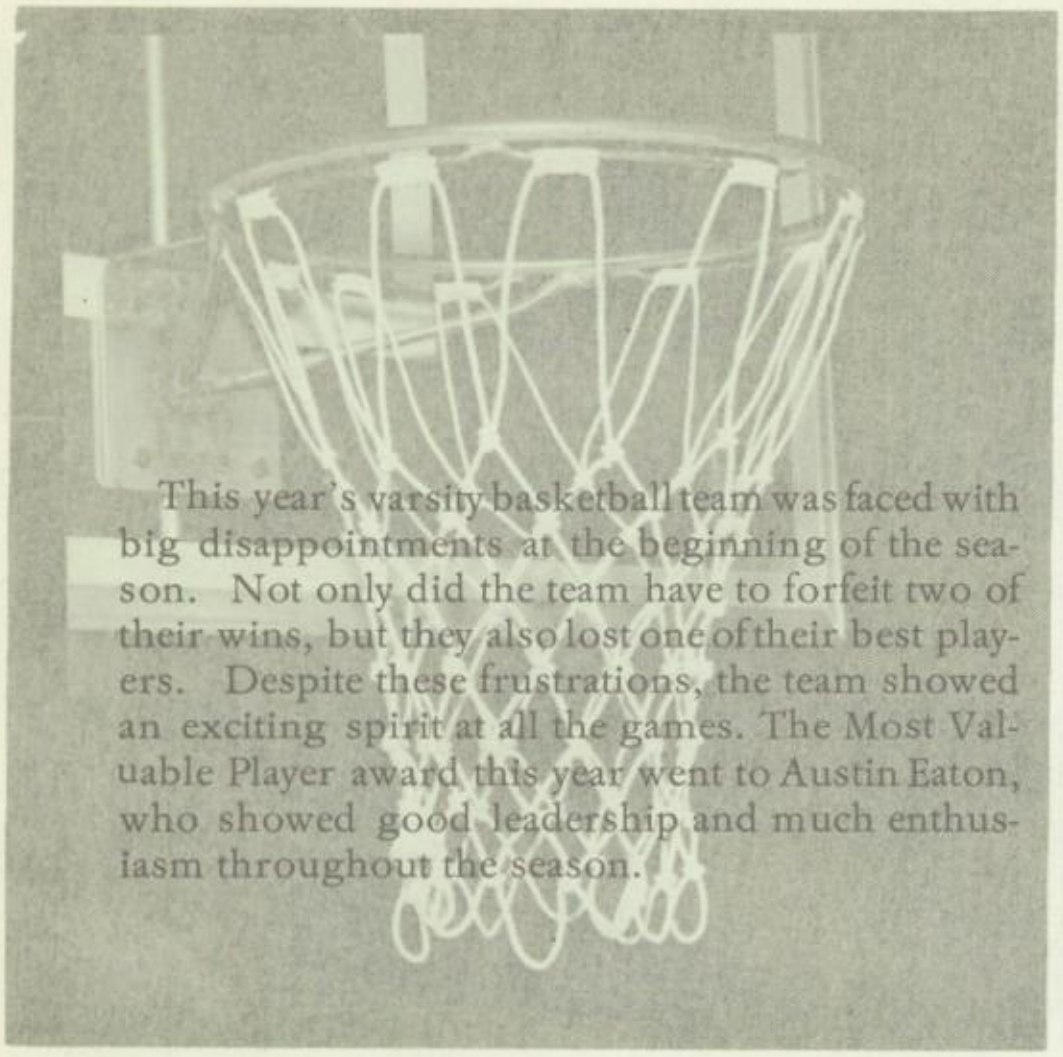
Varsity Has Disappointing Season



This year's varsity basketball team was faced with big disappointments at the beginning of the season. Not only did the team have to forfeit two of their wins, but they also lost one of their best players. Despite these frustrations, the team showed an exciting spirit at all the games. The Most Valuable Player award this year went to Austin Eaton, who showed good leadership and much enthusiasm throughout the season.

Netter's Improve as Season Progresses

Fullerton's tennismen had a big reputation to uphold as the season opened, since the 1961 varsity squad captured both the Sunset League and the CIF championships. However, with no lettermen returning this year, the outlook was bleak. Even with this big handicap, Coach Lawyers Racqueteers had developed as the season progressed, and at year's end they had improved enough to become winners.

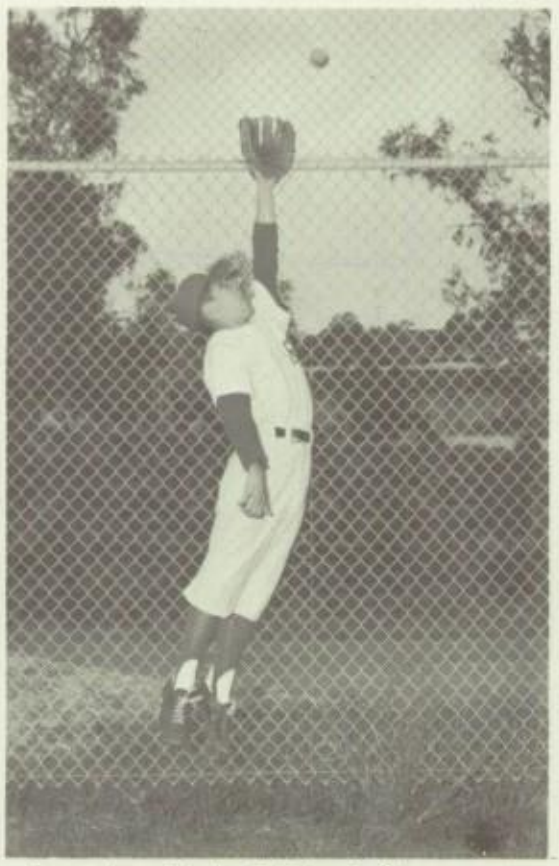
Junior Varsity Baseball

Van Voorhis
Coach

Mr. Robert Van Voorhis did an excellent job preparing the J.V. baseballers for future Varsity action. Although this year's J.V. team didn't fare too well, Coach Van Voorhis feels the team showed outstanding spirit.

David Lowe settles in preparing for some batting practice.



Jumping high, Richard Cooper attempts to prevent an extra base hit.

David Iwatsuru perfects his hook slide in evading Bob Gienapp and the Ball.

Gail Farren and Bob Middleton combine to start the double play in an inter squad game.

GAA Cabinet for 1962

Marie Appy
President

The Cabinet, headed by President Marie Appy, supervised a very successful year. To start things off, they held the G.A.A. Get Acquainted Party on September 20th. The purpose of this party was to get all the new girls acquainted with G.A.A. Around Thanksgiving time the Cabinet held an off campus candy sale, which was a big success. On Februaty 8th, the Junior Olympics took place in the girls' gym. Everyone who attended enjoyed the games and filled up on cookies and punch. Last, but definitely not least was the G.A.A. Banquet which was held on May 31st. Many awards and medals were given out to deserving girls at the Banquet.

Get Acquainted Party

Marie Appy starts off the program by telling of the years activities.

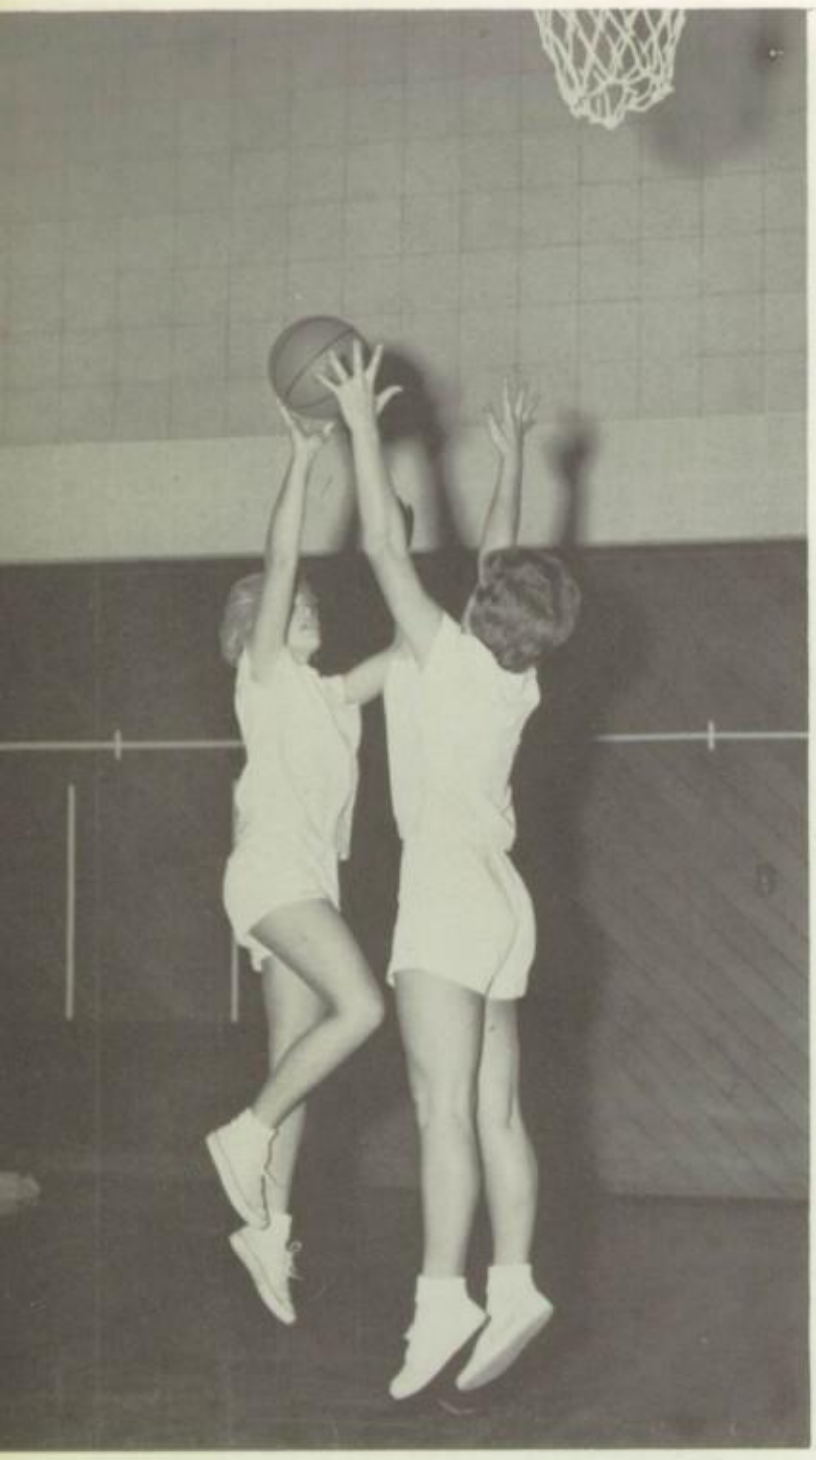
Many girls gathered in the student lounge on September 20th to hear the G.A.A. President, Marie Appy open the 1961 program with a short talk. Next, the various managers gave either a skit or speech explaining their sport, and later they introduced their advisors. The highlight of the party was a juicy watermelon feed.

Marlene Schoner, Gretchen Keller, Karen Horrocks, and Lynn Steele present a skit for modern dance.

Here you see some girls enjoying the juicy watermelon served after the program.

New Tradition Set

A separate playday with other district schools was a new tradition started this year in all sports. The basketball teams defeated Sunny Hills, tied Lowell and lost to Buena Park.



Forward, Cindy Edmiston shoots for a basket while guard, Deanna Bagby, attempts to block the throw during an after school practice.

The swim team lost only one meet this year. It was the first loss to Tustin in fourteen years. Two school records were broken this year, the 25 yard back stroke by Patty Sherwood and the 100 yard free style relay by Peggy Wubben, Linda Woestemeyer, Jenise Vayssie and Betty Webb. The new member added to the team was Pookie, who started out as the boys' swim team mascot. Now the girls have adopted him too.

Marlene Schoner
Manager

During the first semester, the girls in G.A.A. Modern Dance were getting ready for the annual Dance Concert. These girls presented two dances choreographed by Miss Shafranski. The concert was presented on February 15th, 16th and 17th in the Little Theater. The theme was "To Dance is Something Special." It was such a big success that another concert was held on May 5th. Its theme was "Experimental Dance".

During a practice game these girls anxiously await the next move.

Volleyball Has

During the third quarter, G.A.A. Volleyball was offered to all girls. On Mondays and Wednesdays theFreshmen and Sophomores met; Juniors and Seniors met on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Because of a heavy rainfall the girls didn't have much opportunity to practice before the interclass games began.

Large Turnout

The first of the three playdays held this year was with Lowell on March 8th, the second was held on March 13th with Buena Park, and the last was with Sunny Hills on March 22nd. Advisor, Miss Scott and manager, Kash Jones arranged the teams this year so that there were four freshman and four sophomore teams of eight girls each with two junior and two senior teams of seven girls each.

Softball Teams

One, two, three strikes, you're out at the old ballgame. These familiar words describe the scene on stadium field during the last quarter. On Mondays and Wednesdays, the sophomore, junior and senior girls were out. Because of such a large turnout of freshmen, they had Tuesdays and Thursdays all to themselves. This year's playdays were with Buena Park.

BANQUET HELD MAY 31st

The annual G.A.A. banquet ended the year with an astronautical feeling. The theme this year was "Sports in Orbit." Dr. Camille Brown, an instructor from U.C.L.A. spoke about the importance of sports in this space minded world of ours. Numerous letters and awards were given out following the speaker.

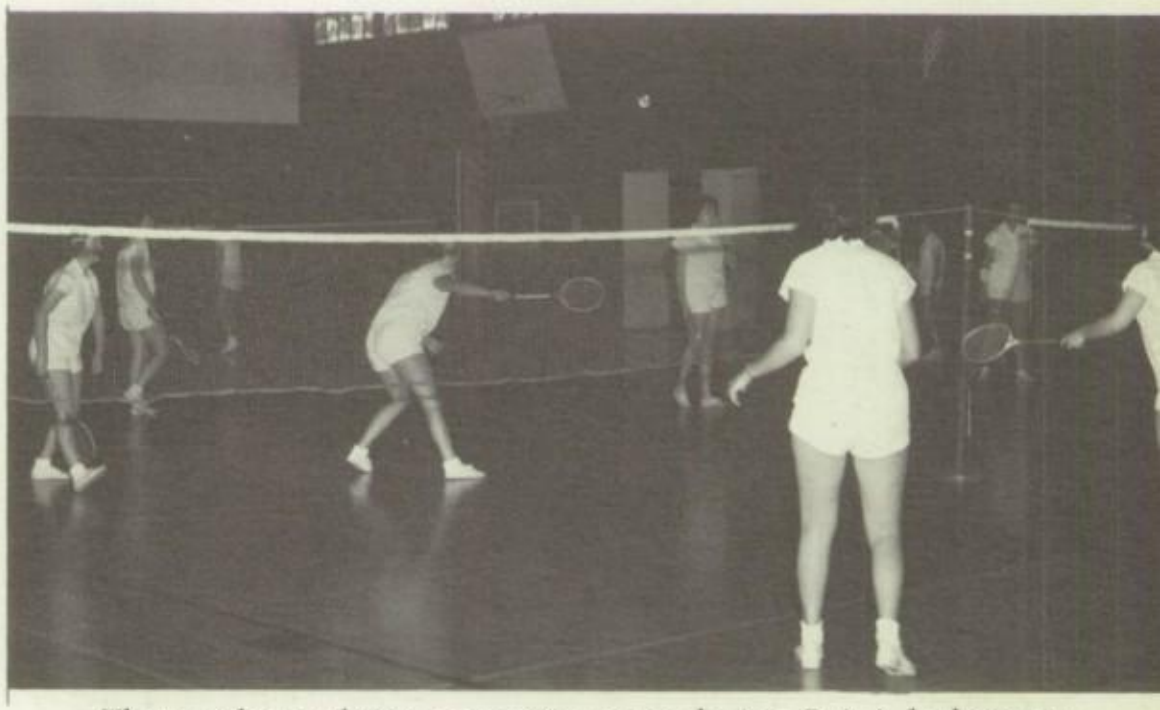
Badminton Ends Season

On Tuesdays and Thursdays, after school, during the last quarter many of the junior and senior girls were playing badminton. Three of their five playdays were played here: Lowell, Brea, and Buena park. The other two, La Habra and Sunny Hills, were played away.



These girls are playing an exciting game during G.A.A. badminton.

Miss Scott
Advisor

Ready! AIM! Fire! Although archery is not offered after school, the junior and senior girls have a chance to shoot in their sports classes.

These dancers are busily preparing for the second Dance Concert.

Volleyball was enjoyed both in P.E. and G.A.A.

Shuffleboard and ping pong are not offered in G.A.A., but the sports classes enjoy one quarter playing such recreational games as these.
